

FUND STRATEGY

The Tocqueville Gold Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least 80% of its net assets, plus borrowings for investment purposes, in gold and other precious metals and securities of companies located throughout the world that are engaged in mining or processing gold. The Fund follows a value approach to investing and the portfolio manager will identify companies that are undervalued based on his judgment of relative value and growth potential.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- Gold prices finished 1Q 2017 at $1249 per ounce, appreciating 8.4% for the three-month period. Markets bid up equities in anticipation of successful policies from President Trump's administration, while investors rebuilt gold positions as the dollar posted a declining trend and global inflation figures rose the most in five years. Gold bullion and gold equity markets exhibited a positive bias, with investors adding to positions on any short-term weakness given the sound support of the $1200/oz. price level. Despite higher interest rates, investors appear to be responding to firmer global economic developments and inflationary pressures. Meanwhile, European elections and U.S. foreign policy have presented elements of geopolitical uncertainty, which also provided support for gold prices.
- During 1Q 2017, the Fund's 10.01% gain outperformed the 6.45% return of the Philadelphia Gold & Silver Index (the "XAU"). Top contributors to performance included Ivanhoe Mines, Torex Gold Resources, Fresnillo, and Alamos Gold, none of which are held in the XAU. Top detractors included Detour Gold, Klondex Mines, SEMAFO, and Newmont Mining. The portfolio continues to maintain heavier exposure to small- and mid-cap companies compared to the XAU, which is predominantly composed of large-cap holdings.
- In the absence of a credible monetary standard, we expect no escape from the treadmill of rising debt, both in the U.S. and globally, that outpaces economic growth. Income inequality, wage stagnation, overvaluation of financial assets, and speculation instead of productive investment are likely to be prolonged under the current monetary regime. Whether or not policy makers take a proactive approach to address monetary reform, the fact remains that gold is massively underpriced in all paper currencies. We expect a significant repricing of gold during the current administration, either by design or because of market events. Whenever a repricing happens, we expect broad support for that outcome.

DISCLOSURES

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The Fund invests in gold and other precious metals, which involves additional and special risks, such as the possibility for substantial price fluctuations over a short period of time; the market for gold/precious metals is relatively limited; the sources of gold/precious metals are concentrated in countries that have the potential for instability; and the market for gold/precious metals is unregulated. The Fund may also invest in foreign securities, which are subject to special risks including: differences in accounting methods; the value of foreign currencies may decline relative to the US dollar; a foreign government may expropriate the Fund's assets; and political, social or economic instability in a foreign country in which the Fund invests may cause the value of the Fund's investments to decline. The Fund is non-diversified, meaning it may concentrate its assets in fewer individual holdings than a diversified fund. Therefore, the Fund is more exposed to individual stock volatility than a diversified fund.

For the period ended 03/31/17, Morningstar rated the Tocqueville Gold Fund, for the three-, five-, and 10-year periods, respectively, 3, 4, and 4 stars among 71, 67, and 46 Equity Precious Metals Funds, respectively (derived from a weighted average of the fund's three-, five-, and 10-year [if applicable] risk-adjusted return measures and Morningstar Ratings metrics). Investment performance reflects applicable fee waivers. Without such waivers, total returns would be reduced and ratings could be lower. For funds with at least a three-year history, a Morningstar Rating™ is based on a risk-adjusted return measure (including the effects of sales charges, loads, and redemption fees) with emphasis on downward variations and consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% 4 stars, the next 35% 3 stars, the next 22.5% 2 stars, and the bottom 10% 1 star. Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within this scale and rated separately. ©2017 Morningstar, Inc. All Rights Reserved.
