FUND	INVESTMENT STRATEGY	DESIGNED FOR
Tocqueville Fund (TOCQX)	The Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in common stocks of U.S. companies.	Investors who desire an allocation to the broad U.S. equity markets.
Tocqueville Phoenix Fund (TOPHX)	The Fund seeks long-term preservation of capital and growth of capital by investing primarily in the equity securities of domestic companies, which the portfolio managers believe to be undervalued or to represent special situations.	Investors who desire a more focused allocation within the mid-capitalization segment of the U.S. equity market.
Tocqueville Opportunity Fund (TOPPX)	The Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in the common stocks of small and mid cap growth companies which have the potential to deliver positive long-term earnings growth.	Investors seeking growth opportunities within the small and mid-cap equity markets.

Risks: You may lose money by investing in any mutual fund. The Tocqueville Funds are subject to the following risks: the stock market may go down and/or a stock selected for a fund's portfolio may fail to perform as expected. Other risks may include: investments in smaller companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility; and investments in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods.

Tocqueville Asset Management (“Tocqueville”), investment advisor to the Tocqueville Funds, seeks capital preservation and growth through long-term investments, principally in equity securities. In this regard, the Funds mirror the investment approach Tocqueville uses for its private wealth and institutional clients.

Tocqueville’s investment philosophy is contrarian and value focused. The investment strategy is to purchase strong business franchises that are temporarily out of favor, with company fundamentals that are improving or expected to improve. Such situations often trade at a discount to their intrinsic value, thus providing what we believe to be a good investment opportunity. Taking a time horizon measured in years rather than weeks or quarters is one way Tocqueville is different from a majority of advisors.

Tocqueville’s investment professionals identify investment ideas through a combination of investment experience and proprietary, research-intensive fundamental analysis with bottom-up portfolio construction. Our portfolio managers have over thirty years of investment experience, which we believe distinguishes us from most other advisors. In addition, our portfolios are actively managed as we seek to find the best investment opportunities that may not be covered by Wall Street.

Tocqueville’s portfolio managers and analysts meet formally on a weekly basis to review potential and existing investments. These meetings are a forum for debate, where ideas are vigorously challenged. Although investments are vetted thoroughly by the group, the portfolio manager(s) of each Fund is (are) the sole decision maker(s) for the holdings of that portfolio. A contrarian perspective that is grounded in business facts and established financial techniques (such as discounted free cash flow and enterprise valuation) enables us to leverage the “art” as well as the “science” of investing. Tocqueville also encourages its portfolio managers to invest a substantial portion of their personal assets in the Funds, thereby aligning their interests with that of the Funds’ shareholders.

We invite you to evaluate how the Tocqueville Trust’s Family of Funds can help achieve your financial goals.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Kleinschmidt
President of the Tocqueville Trust

FUND STRATEGY

The Fund uses a bottom-up selection process based on fundamental security analysis, and does not try to replicate a benchmark. The approach is contrarian and value oriented. The Fund seeks to find securities that are depressed in price, out of favor with investors, and trading at a substantial discount to intrinsic value. The portfolio manager emphasizes free cash flow generation, balance sheet quality, and the fundamental strength of a business franchise as attributes to identify the most attractive risk/reward propositions across all market capitalizations. The Fund focuses primarily on the securities of U.S. issuers, but frequently invests in non-U.S. issuers. The portfolio will typically contain 60-80 positions.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The performance assumes reinvestment of capital gains and dividends. ^The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive management fees and/or reimburse expenses in order to ensure that the Fund's expense ratio does not exceed 1.25% (excluding taxes, interest expense, acquired fund fees and expenses, or extraordinary expenses such as litigation) until at least 3/1/2022. In the absence of these fee waivers, total returns would be lower.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- The Fund returned 9.64% after fees for the third quarter, outperforming the S&P 500, the Russell 1000 Value and the Russel 3000 Value indices, which returned 8.79%, 5.59% and 5.42%, respectively. The best contributing sectors were Information Technology, Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary. The weakest sectors were Energy, Financials and Real Estate. The top individual contributors were Apple, NVIDIA, Amazon, NextEra and Procter & Gamble while the laggards were Intel, Chevron, Ionis, Automatic Data Processing and Steelcase.
- The Fund added a position in Charles Schwab Corporation (“Schwab”), a leading investment services firm. In our view, Schwab is uniquely strong at asset gathering, enabling it to grow at a consistently high rate. Another new position the Fund added is Fidelity National Information Services (“Fidelity”), a leading transaction processor and merchant acquirer. We believe Fidelity represented attractive value as it has recurrent revenue characteristics, benefits from growth in e-commerce, and is levered to resurgent payment volumes which have been affected by COVID. The Fund also added to its existing position in Steelcase, as commercial office space is out of favor, but we believe presents an attractive opportunity.
- A variety of names were reduced or sold during the period as they reached our financial targets, as circumstances had changed or in response to needs for shareholder liquidity. These included Bank of America, Bank of New York, Boston Properties, Chevron, Constellation Brands, Marathon Petroleum, Microsoft, Raytheon Technologies, Schlumberger and the SPDR Gold Trust.
- September's correction brought comparisons to the internet bubble of 1999-2000, as investors asked whether history was repeating itself and the market was overvalued. Superficially, today's P/E multiples look similar to those in 2000, but if adjustments are made for changes in market structure, taxation, interest rates and abnormal liquidity, and if profits are normalized for COVID, then we believe current valuations do not appear to represent speculative froth.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Tocqueville Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation.

DISCLOSURES

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

The Tocqueville Mutual Funds may be offered only to persons in the United States. This literature should not be considered a solicitation or offering of any investment products or services to investors residing outside of the United States.

FUND STRATEGY

The Tocqueville Phoenix Fund will seek to achieve its objectives by investing primarily in the equity securities (i.e., common stocks, securities convertible into common stocks or rights or warrants to subscribe for or purchase common stocks) of domestic companies. Specifically, the Fund will primarily invest in equity securities which the portfolio managers believe to be undervalued or to represent special situations. An example of a special situation is a company undergoing change that might cause its market value to grow at a rate faster than the market generally.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- During the quarter, the Fund's net asset value increased 4.02%, versus increases of 4.93% for the Russell 2000 Index ("Russell 2000") and 2.56% for the Russell 2000 Value Index ("Russell 2000 Value").
- The broader market continued its recovery during the quarter. Most large-cap indices are now reporting gains year to date, whereas smaller cap, along with value indices are still struggling. Large-cap growth stocks (as measured by the Russell 1000 Growth Index) are up a staggering ~24% year to date, whereas, small-cap value stocks (as measured by the Russell 2000 Value Index) are down ~21% year to date. The outperformance of large-cap versus small-cap stocks on a trailing three-year basis is at its highest level for over two decades, while momentum investing has widened the performance gap between growth and value stocks to an all-time record. While currently out of favor, we believe our approach to investing remains a prudent course for long-term investors.
- We expect positive results from most of our companies this earnings season, but guidance for the fourth quarter may be murky as the outlook for the economy, while currently resembling a V-shaped recovery, is tempered by uncertainties surrounding new stimulus programs this coming fall, and the trajectory of the coronavirus with the onset of colder weather. This combined with a political atmosphere of no compromise, controversial political appointments and the upcoming election leave us cautious.
- PVH Corp, Rush Enterprises, and Stanley Black & Decker were the top contributing stocks to the Fund's performance during the quarter. PVH benefited from a reopening of retail locations both in the U.S. and internationally, Rush from a swift recovery in Class 8 truck sales, and Stanley Black & Decker from strong expected results in the company's tools & storage segment. Crane Co, WR Grace, and Innospec were the largest detractors from the Fund's performance.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Tocqueville Phoenix Fund's investment objectives are to seek long-term preservation of capital (sufficient growth to outpace inflation over an extended period of time) and growth of capital.

DISCLOSURES

On November 15, 2019, the Tocqueville Select Fund (TSELX) was reorganized into the Tocqueville Phoenix Fund (TOPHX). Shareholders of the Select Fund received shares of the Phoenix Fund equivalent in aggregate net asset value to the aggregate net asset value of their shares in the Select Fund at the time of the reorganization. The Select Fund was liquidated and dissolved.

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The Fund invests in smaller companies, which involve additional or special risks such as small companies rely on limited product lines, financial resources and business activities that may make them more susceptible than larger companies to setbacks or downturns; and small cap stocks are less liquid and more thinly traded which make them more volatile than stocks of larger companies.

The Tocqueville Mutual Funds may be offered only to persons in the United States. This literature should not be considered a solicitation or offering of any investment products or services to investors residing outside of the United States.

FUND STRATEGY

The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in the common stocks of small and mid-cap companies which have the potential to deliver above-average long-term earnings growth, in which earnings and sales growth, valuation, and profitability are assessed through fundamental-based research. The Fund looks for companies which are market leaders in growth industries, have a strong brand name, and whose sales and earnings have increased at a consistent rate. The investment approach includes the analysis of company financial statements in addition to meeting with corporate managements.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- In the 3rd quarter of 2020, the Fund appreciated 8.54% after fees compared to the Russell 2500 Growth Index ("Growth Index") which appreciated 9.37%. Through the first 9 months of 2020, the Fund has appreciated 31.9% compared to the Growth Index's appreciation of 11.5%.
- As the quarter progressed, market participants got more comfortable that a pronounced economic recovery was underway and rotated out of outperforming growth stocks and into more cyclically sensitive sectors. While from quarter to quarter certain sectors can become more or less in favor, over the long term, we continue to believe in the highly attractive fundamentals exhibited by software, e-commerce, and online payment providers. These companies possess impressive recurring revenue growth rates and have many opportunities to reinvest capital at high incremental rates of return.
- Communication Services and Information Technology provided the leading relative performance during the quarter. The Fund held no positions in Energy or Utilities which accounted for 17 basis points in relative performance versus the benchmark.
- ServiceNow, Shopify, Myokardia, Workday, and Pinterest were the leading contributors on an absolute and relative basis. Detractors from performance included Galapagos, Reta Pharmaceuticals, Neurocrine Biosciences, Zoominfo Technologies, and Splunk.

The Tocqueville Opportunity Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation.

The U.S. mid cap range for market capitalization typically falls between $1 billion and $8 billion and represents 20% of the total capitalization of the U.S. equity market. Growth is defined based on fast growth (high growth rates for earnings, sales, book value, and cash flow) and high valuations (high price ratios and low dividend yields).

The Morningstar Rating™ reflects historical risk-adjusted performance as of the indicated date. The Overall Morningstar Rating™ for a fund is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its 3-, 5-, and 10-year Morningstar Rating™ metrics.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include any adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.
