FUND	INVESTMENT STRATEGY	DESIGNED FOR
Tocqueville Fund (TOCQX)	The Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in common stocks of U.S. companies.	Investors who desire an allocation to the broad U.S. equity markets.
Tocqueville Phoenix Fund (TOPHX)	The Fund seeks long-term preservation of capital and growth of capital by investing primarily in the equity securities of domestic companies, which the portfolio managers believe to be undervalued or to represent special situations.	Investors who desire a more focused allocation within the mid-capitalization segment of the U.S. equity market.
Tocqueville Opportunity Fund (TOPPX)	The Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing primarily in the common stocks of small and mid cap growth companies which have the potential to deliver positive long-term earnings growth.	Investors seeking growth opportunities within the small and mid-cap equity markets.

Risks: You may lose money by investing in any mutual fund. The Tocqueville Funds are subject to the following risks: the stock market may go down and/or a stock selected for a fund's portfolio may fail to perform as expected. Other risks may include: investments in smaller companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility; and investments in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods.

Tocqueville Asset Management (“Tocqueville”), investment advisor to the Tocqueville Funds, seeks capital preservation and growth through long-term investments, principally in equity securities. In this regard, the Funds mirror the investment approach Tocqueville uses for its private wealth and institutional clients.

Tocqueville’s investment philosophy is contrarian and value focused. The investment strategy is to purchase strong business franchises that are temporarily out of favor, with company fundamentals that are improving or expected to improve. Such situations often trade at a discount to their intrinsic value, thus providing what we believe to be a good investment opportunity. Taking a time horizon measured in years rather than weeks or quarters is one way Tocqueville is different from a majority of advisors.

Tocqueville’s investment professionals identify investment ideas through a combination of investment experience and proprietary, research-intensive fundamental analysis with bottom-up portfolio construction. Our portfolio managers have over thirty years of investment experience, which we believe distinguishes us from most other advisors. In addition, our portfolios are actively managed as we seek to find the best investment opportunities that may not be covered by Wall Street.

Tocqueville’s portfolio managers and analysts meet formally on a weekly basis to review potential and existing investments. These meetings are a forum for debate, where ideas are vigorously challenged. Although investments are vetted thoroughly by the group, the portfolio manager(s) of each Fund is (are) the sole decision maker(s) for the holdings of that portfolio. A contrarian perspective that is grounded in business facts and established financial techniques (such as discounted free cash flow and enterprise valuation) enables us to leverage the “art” as well as the “science” of investing. Tocqueville also encourages its portfolio managers to invest a substantial portion of their personal assets in the Funds, thereby aligning their interests with that of the Funds’ shareholders.

We invite you to evaluate how the Tocqueville Trust’s Family of Funds can help achieve your financial goals.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Kleinschmidt
President of the Tocqueville Trust

FUND STRATEGY

The Fund uses a bottom-up selection process based on fundamental security analysis, and does not try to replicate a benchmark. The approach is contrarian and value oriented. The Fund seeks to find securities that are depressed in price, out of favor with investors, and trading at a substantial discount to intrinsic value. The portfolio manager emphasizes free cash flow generation, balance sheet quality, and the fundamental strength of a business franchise as attributes to identify the most attractive risk/reward propositions across all market capitalizations. The Fund focuses primarily on the securities of U.S. issuers, but frequently invests in non-U.S. issuers. The portfolio will typically contain 60-80 positions.

^The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive management fees and/or reimburse expenses in order to ensure that the Fund's expense ratio does not exceed 1.25% (excluding taxes, interest expense, acquired fund fees and expenses, or extraordinary expenses such as litigation) until at least 3/1/2022. In the absence of these fee waivers, total returns would be lower.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- The Tocqueville Fund ("Fund") gained 6.97% after fees during the period, outperforming the S&P 500 which returned 6.17%. Industrials, information technology and financials were our best performing sectors while consumer staples, utilities and healthcare were the laggards. The biggest contributors to performance during the quarter were Applied Materials, Deere, Alphabet, Intel and Charles Schwab while the biggest detractors were Qualcomm, Apple, Colgate-Palmolive, Amazon and Merck.
- The Fund added a position in Expedia, the online travel agency, which was directly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. We believe there is pent-up demand for travel, and in our opinion, the company was able to navigate the pandemic without too much damage to its balance sheet.
- Another new position the Fund added is Alibaba, the Chinese e-commerce leader, which underperformed recently in part due to political pressure from the Chinese government. Our view is that the political pressure would pass and at the time of our purchase, we believed the shares were trading at a sizeable discount to our estimates of intrinsic value.
- The Fund also added Republic Services, the waste management business. It suffered loss of volumes as many commercial customers closed during the pandemic, causing the business to appear more cyclical in this crisis than in others. At the time of purchase, our view was that it was a stable business with historical pricing power at an attractive discount.
- Other positions that were purchased or added were Acadia Pharmaceuticals, Allegro Microsystems, Cameco, Dow, DuPont, Gilead, Rockwell Automation, South32 and Tejon Ranch.
- During the quarter the Fund sold positions in a variety of names due to changes in our outlook or circumstances, prices approaching our targets, to make room for ideas with better risk reward profiles or to meet shareholder demands for liquidity. These included Amazon, Apple, Applied Materials, Boeing, Caterpillar, Coca Cola, Facebook, Fidelity National, Ionis, Microsoft, Nextera and Procter & Gamble.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Tocqueville Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation.

DISCLOSURES

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

The Tocqueville Mutual Funds may be offered only to persons in the United States. This literature should not be considered a solicitation or offering of any investment products or services to investors residing outside of the United States.

FUND STRATEGY

The Tocqueville Phoenix Fund will seek to achieve its objectives by investing primarily in the equity securities (i.e., common stocks, securities convertible into common stocks or rights or warrants to subscribe for or purchase common stocks) of domestic companies. Specifically, the Fund will primarily invest in equity securities which the portfolio managers believe to be undervalued or to represent special situations. An example of a special situation is a company undergoing change that might cause its market value to grow at a rate faster than the market generally.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- During the quarter, the Fund's net asset value increased 16.42% after fees, versus increases of 21.17% for the Russell 2000 Value Index and 12.70% for the Russell 2000 Total Return Index.
- Fiscal and monetary stimulus, removal of many COVID-19 restrictions, and successful distribution of COVID-19 vaccinations helped the U.S. economy recover during the quarter. Small capitalization stocks benefited the most, experiencing outstanding double digit percentage gains due to their increased exposure to an improving domestic economy.
- The U.S. government's strategy to counter the economic impact of COVID-19 has been extraordinary. All-in, there will likely be over $5 trillion of fiscal stimulus to help the U.S. economy recover from its near total shutdown in 2020. Importantly, it is worth noting that there will be more fiscal aid for the U.S. economy in 2021 than there was in 2020 (~$3 trillion, versus ~$2 trillion).
- While we are optimistic about the prospects of future economic growth, we are concerned that such dramatic government intervention in the economy may result in substantial inflation. We are already seeing evidence of such in many chemicals and building materials. Historically, value stocks, such as those we own in the Fund, have outperformed during periods of higher inflation and we are hopeful that trend will continue in the future.
- Acuity, Tegna, and U.S. Concrete were the top contributing stocks to the Fund's performance during the first quarter. Acuity benefited from an improving non-residential construction environment, Tegna from strong retransmission renewals, and U.S. Concrete from an expected infrastructure plan. II-VI, Lumentum and Harsco were the Fund's largest detractors.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Tocqueville Phoenix Fund's investment objectives are to seek long-term preservation of capital (sufficient growth to outpace inflation over an extended period of time) and growth of capital.

DISCLOSURES

On November 15, 2019, the Tocqueville Select Fund (TSELX) was reorganized into the Tocqueville Phoenix Fund (TOPHX). Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The Fund invests in smaller companies, which involve additional or special risks such as small companies rely on limited product lines, financial resources and business activities that may make them more susceptible than larger companies to setbacks or downturns; and small cap stocks are less liquid and more thinly traded which make them more volatile than stocks of larger companies.

The Tocqueville Mutual Funds may be offered only to persons in the United States. This literature should not be considered a solicitation or offering of any investment products or services to investors residing outside of the United States.

FUND STRATEGY

The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in the common stocks of small and mid-cap companies which have the potential to deliver above-average long-term earnings growth, in which earnings and sales growth, valuation, and profitability are assessed through fundamental-based research. The Fund looks for companies which are market leaders in growth industries, have a strong brand name, and whose sales and earnings have increased at a consistent rate. The investment approach includes the analysis of company financial statements in addition to meeting with corporate managements.

Calendar Year Returns

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- In the 1st quarter of 2021, the Fund returned -6.28% after fees compared to the Russell 2500 Growth Total Return Index which returned 2.49%.
- During the quarter, the 10-year Treasury Bond nearly doubled starting the year at .92% and finished the quarter at 1.74%. The accommodative monetary policy the Federal Reserve is enacting combined with fiscal stimulus and the economy reopening from COVID-19 stoked inflation fears. As a result, the technology sector underperformed other cyclically sensitive sectors like industrials and consumer discretionary. Despite these macro-economic dynamics, the Fund's holdings in the technology sector continue to execute extremely well as businesses are spending increasing amounts on digital transformations in areas such as E-Commerce, Software as a Service, and Online payments. We remain confident these areas will see continued growth and the businesses that service these areas will grow revenues and earnings for the foreseeable future.
- Communication services and Materials provided the leading relative performance during the quarter, while Technology and Industrials trailed the benchmark. The Fund held no positions in energy or utilities which detracted 16bps in relative performance versus the benchmark.
- Danimer Scientific, Restoration Hardware, Pinterest, Fortinet Inc, and Workday were the leading contributors on an absolute and relative basis. Detractors from performance included Coupa Software, ServiceNow Inc, Paycom Software, Okta Inc, and Iovance Biotherapeutics.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Morningstar Rating™ reflects historical risk-adjusted performance as of the indicated date. The Overall Morningstar Rating™ for a fund is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its 3-, 5-, and 10-year Morningstar Rating™ metrics.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include any adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.
